

WJEC AS Level Music Level 3

In a nutshell

This course will enable you to study, perform, compose and develop your music skills.

This course is for you if...

- ... You want a blend of practical and theoretical study
- ... You're enthusiastic and self-motivated
- ... You have a passion for music and/or theatre

What will I be doing?

We offer conservatoire-style training of a high calibre. At AS you'll study solo and ensemble performance, composition and compositional techniques. In addition you'll develop aural skills, and musical analysis through the study of set works covering two areas of study (the symphony 1760-1830 and either music theatre, or rock and pop, or jazz). The music specification at AS consists of three units of study:

- Performing (30% of AS)
- Composing (30% of AS)
- Appraising (40% of AS)

At A2 you'll study a further three units. Performance and composition are studied in greater depth and further musical understanding is developed through new set works based around two topic areas (instrumental music and applied music). The music specification at A2 contains three units mirroring those at AS:

- Solo and/or ensemble performance (12-15 minutes)
- Composition and harmony
- Further music understanding

Units will be assessed either via coursework or by an examination. Visiting instrumental and vocal staff also assist in the preparation for grade examinations in performance. Upon completion, you'll gain:

- AS Level Music
- A Level Music
- Skills activities
