

SPORT, TRAVEL & PUBLIC SERVICES

Follow in the footsteps of your sporting heroes, keep our communities safe with a job in public services or let your career take off in travel.

Find out about the different career paths you could follow:

Exercise & Fitness

Are you motivational, focused on fitness and want to help people stay healthy? Jobs in sport include personal trainers, fitness instructors and team coaches. You may choose to work in leisure centres and public arenas in admin and managerial roles.

Activity Leadership

Are you active and love the great outdoors? Why not make a career out of a hobby. Lead on activities such as hiking and rock climbing, instructing groups of children or adults. Hours can be flexible, and it's great for meeting new people. This could lead to event stewarding, making sure crowds are safe and under control at public events.

Travel services

Help holiday goers achieve the trip of their dreams by working in travel. You'll advise on the best places to visit and have a nose for the right deal. You could be working on the high street in travel agencies or in call centres.

Air cabin crew / Air ground control

Let your career take you to new heights by working as cabin crew; perks include free travel, new experiences and no day is the same. Get the flight experience with your feet firmly on the ground by working as check-in staff, baggage handlers, security and air traffic control.

Justice

Invested in our safety? Why not work in public services. If you want to be in the action then jobs in the police, fire and emergency services could be for you. Or maybe you're all for justice? Work in the courts, prisons and probation services. This sector is ideal for those who ensure rules aren't meant to be broken.

Local government

Want to serve your community and make a difference? Local government provides services such as education, environmental health, housing and many more. You can move around to broaden your knowledge of different areas. By joining this industry you'll be in good company; councils are the biggest employers in their areas.

The Armed Forces

Defend our honour and join the Armed Forces. You'll need to be physically fit, a team player and happy to work overseas for long periods. Working in extreme and intense situations, you'll be of a calm and sensible manner. Jobs are available in the Royal Air Force (RAF), the Royal Navy or the Army. As well as defence, you'll help with humanitarian aid, disaster relief and search and rescue missions.
